

RYAN PATRICK

2025 ROSÉ

TASTING NOTES

The nose opens with fresh wild strawberry, watermelon rind, and white peach over subtle crushed stone and Provençal herbs. Vibrant and dry, the palate shows juicy raspberry, Rainier cherry, and a hint of mandarin, framed by bright acidity and a faint saline minerality from Washington's warm days and cool nights. Mourvèdre adds texture and spice beneath Grenache's lifted fruit, giving the wine both freshness and depth.

VINEYARD NOTES

Perched on the sun-drenched benches of Washington's Wahluke Slope AVA, Ravenscliff Vineyard mirrors the rugged beauty and intensity of one of the state's warmest growing regions. Swept by desert winds and rooted in ancient glacial soils above the Columbia River, it yields fruit with striking concentration, vivid aromatics, and natural balance. Long summer days and cool nights ripen grapes fully while preserving freshness and structure, producing wines that are powerful yet elegant.
